SJ Enrollment High; Record May Be Set

A record enrollment is predicted in this registration, reported Dean of Students Joe H. West.

He predicted that a total of 7,101 state college students would enroll.

The standing record is 6,922, set in the fall of 1949.

The reason for the rise, West said, is the tremendous influx of freshmen and transfer students.

A total of 3,402 transfer students and freshmen were admitted to the college by Sept. 17. Last year 2,542 were admitted, showing an increase this year of 860.

This year 2,010 freshmen were admitted to the college by Sept. 17. Of that total, West added probably 1,850 will show up for registration.

He said that 1,173 transfer students would register.

"Over 500 applications from new students were denied because they did not meet the state requirements," West said.

In the fall of 1949, there were 8,019 students attending San Jose State. Of that total 1,097 were Junior college students. With almost 7,000 state college students attending the school in 1949 the full time enrollment (figured by adding the total units taken by students and dividing by 15) numbered 6,389. By state policy, the limit is 6,000, West said.

Consequently, with a limit of 6,000 the restrictions become tighter. This year West predicts a full-time enrollment of 6,700 or 6,800.

Simpson Sets College Board

Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction has reappointed three members of the San Jose State college Advisory board for a four-year term.

Named by Dr. Simpson were L. D. Bennett, chairman of the board, Paul L. Davis and Mrs. L. D. DeArman.

Other members of the board include: Lawrence A. Appleton, Floyd Farr, Joseph R. Garner, Herschel C. Graham, Fred J. Oehler, Floyd A. Parton, Warren B. Reilly and E. B. Scott. One vacancy caused by the resignation of E. L. Hayes has not been filled.

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of the college, has called a meeting of the board for Sept. 26.

Parking Poses Penalty Problem

Warning! No Parking!

According to John Amos, director of buildings and grounds, signs such as these will be enforced by newly hired security officers Harvey Schaffer and Frank Lopez.

Penalties for ignoring such signs have been set down by the Education department of the state of California and will be dealt out by college authorities.

DR. JOHN T. WAHLQUIST

Dr. Wahlquist Says College Is 'A Must'

Greetings to students:

Few events, if any, in one's life are more important than the beginning of another college year. This is certainly the century of specialization and, likewise, the century of generalization, paradoxical as that may sound. Specialization, yes; most men and women must share in the work of the world. Generalization, yes; no one can escape the necessity of greater insight into the complexities that surround us all.

College education is a must for either role. Most areas of occupational competence nowadays require advanced learning not to be had outside of college, and few individuals by themselves can even glimpse the social, economic, technological, political, ethical and other types of common problems.

College attendance at whatever financial cost to the individual, is a good investment; training at San Jose State college is a godsend to the student of limited means.

We hope you will enjoy the year ahead. Improve yourself for future employment, but learn a foreign language, take a philosophy course, share some good art and music, see the school plays, attend the lectures. The courses are only a part of the education that college stands ready to give you.

We needn't tell you to attend the football and basketball games, to see judo, to experience the novice boxing tournament, to participate in the homecoming parade—you will anyway, and you should! They are also part of a college education.

We wish everyone of you an enjoyable year.

John T. Wahlquist,
President.

Four for Library

Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian at San Jose State college, announced this week that four persons had been hired during the summer. Named by Miss Backus were: Miss Ruth Collins, Robert Lauritzen, Mrs. Mary Ravenhall and Miss Shirley Vernon.

Student Rate Movie Tickets Go on Sale

Student price-rate tickets to the California, Studio and United Artist theaters went on sale today in the Library Arch.

Price of the tickets is 50c. The tickets will entitle students to get into the theaters at a saving of 20c per show.

"The tickets are identification cards," said Charles R. Helm, manager of the United Artist theater. "They will carry signatures and brief descriptions of the students."

Helm also said that 3,000 tickets must be sold or the plan will be discontinued next quarter.

"If you drop below the 3,000 mark," he said, "it will show the film companies that there isn't enough interest."

Helm worked with the Senior class council last year in establishing the student rate plan and pushing it through the film companies.

The seniors had passed a petition around the campus asking the theaters to grant a student rate. In one week the petition had 4,000 signatures.

The student Rally committee will conduct the ticket sale. Bob Lindsey will be in charge.

Half of the money collected will go into the Student Union fund. The other half will go to the theaters, according to Bill Eckert, representative of the Student Council.

Working on the movie rate plan during the summer, and influential in getting it ready for this quarter were Helm and Eckert, appointed by the Student Council last spring quarter. The tickets expire Dec. 30.

Students must have a student body card for this quarter before they will be able to purchase a rate ticket.

Illness Detains Dr. Wm. Vatcher

Dr. William H. Vatcher, assistant professor in political science, has notified the Social Science department that he was stricken ill while in Germany and will be late in returning to the college.

In a letter dated Sept. 6 from Hotel Gruner Wald, Weisbaden, Germany, to Dr. Leo P. Kibby, Social Science department head, Dr. Vatcher said that he had arrived in Germany after an extended world tour but had become ill suddenly. He said that his doctor had advised him to remain in bed for a week before resuming his trip.

Dr. Vatcher expressed his disappointment and told Dr. Kibby that he would probably be a few days late in resuming his classes at the college. Dr. Kibby said Friday that he is making arrangements to carry on Dr. Vatcher's classes until his return.

Included in the social science professor's tour itinerary, according to his letter, were several weeks in the Malay states, ten days in Thailand, a week in Iraq and two weeks each in Kashmir and Yugoslavia.

DAVID ELAM

Daily Editor Gets Call from Uncle Sam

Dave Elam, selected in June to be editor of the Spartan Daily fall quarter, has been notified that he is to be inducted into the Armed Forces in the October draft.

Elam relayed this bit of information to Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism department head, late last month when he was notified to appear for a physical. He passed the physical and was reclassified 1-A and told that he would be inducted into the Army in October for a two-year period.

The Porterville draft board, in Elam's home town, told him that the large quotas required of them in the past few months had drained their area of eligible men of draft age. Therefore, there would be no possibility of Elam's being deferred until he could be graduated in June.

Elam, who was to begin his senior year as a journalism major, served on the Spartan Daily during spring quarter as copy desk chief. He was to replace Ted Foley, outgoing Daily editor.

A replacement for Elam has not been named as yet as approval of the Journalism department's recommendations for an editor by the Student Council is necessary, according to the Student Body Constitution. The council will meet Oct. 7. Until the new editor is named, executive positions on the Daily staff go unfilled, for it is his job to name his department heads.

Daily Will Issue Two More Editions

Two more issues of the Spartan Daily will appear on the stands this week. They will be out Wednesday and Friday morning about 10:30 o'clock. Next week the paper will resume its regular daily status.

For the information of those students and faculty members who find occasion to telephone the Daily, there has been a change of telephone numbers. In the future the editorial department may be reached by dialing extension 210 and the advertising department at extension 211.

'Get Acquainted' Reception Planned Before Dance

Dick Crest and his orchestra, a well-known band around the one night stand circuit, will supply the music for tonight's Registration Dance beginning at 9 o'clock in the Civic auditorium.

The Crest aggregation recently toured the Lake Tahoe area where they played for dancing at several of the outstanding resorts.

A reception is scheduled to be held before the dance at 8:30 p.m. in Room B of the auditorium in order that students and faculty members will have an opportunity to become acquainted. Vern Perry, temporary chairman of the Social Affairs committee, reported Friday.

Perry said that all indications are that tonight's dance will be the largest in student attendance in the history of the college. He based his estimate on the number of students who attended Freshman Camp where 150 persons were turned away. Also, he pointed out that more than 1000 persons attended the orientation activities day last Wednesday.

Admission to the dance will be free and dancing will be from 9 p.m. until midnight.

New System For Activities Is Instituted

A new individual activities record of every student enrolled in San Jose State college is being instituted this fall quarter. It has been announced by Dean Helen Dimmick.

"We think this new system is going to help the student, not only now when choosing committees, but later on when they want the support of the college for promotion, jobs or transfer to another college," reported Dean Dimmick.

The record sheets, which are being passed out to the students when the registration fees are paid, will be collected by faculty members when the final registration check-out is made in the Men's gym.

The records will be filed in the Dean of Women's office, Room 114, and will be available to students. After a student has graduated the records will be transferred to the Personnel office to be used as reference when calls are received from companies seeking information about prospective employees.

A great many requests for information concerning the individual's activities and personal interests are received every week by the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men, Dean Dimmick remarked. "It is to the student's advantage that these files be kept complete and accurate."

"We are going to solicit the cooperation of groups and individual students to keep the file up to date as they take on new activities. If they will report to this office any new activity, we'll see it is properly entered," said Dean Dimmick.

Seven Faculty Members Get Leaves for Year

Seven faculty members were granted sabbatical leaves for the 1953-54 school year, it was announced by Dr. John T. Wahlquist, college president.

Dr. William Hermanns, assistant professor of modern languages, will give a series of lectures in German universities, and creative work will occupy the time of Dr. Esther Shephard, professor of English.

Dr. Irene Palmer, professor of physical education, is writing a book on problems in physical education and is developing visual aids.

Forrest J. Baird, assistant professor of music, and James F. Jacobs, assistant professor of English, have been released for advanced graduate study.

Assumes Position

Now serving as chairman of the San Jose State Nursing Education department is Associate Professor Grace Evelyn May Staple, who assumed the chairmanship during the summer.

Also appointed to a nursing education position was SJS graduate Mrs. Josephine M. Coppedge, who is new assistant director of nursing education of San Jose Hospital School of Nursing. The School of Nursing is a direct affiliate of San Jose State.

Unique Major Offered Here

Beginning this quarter, San Jose State will offer a major in psychiatric technology, unique in that the program is not available in any other college or university in the United States.

The new major department, part of the Nursing Education program, will grant BA degrees in psychiatric technology at the completion of four years of study in the field.

Students who enroll in the program directly from high school will spend the summer session between their first and second college years in a hospital affiliation program.

The fourth year of the college program will consist of clinical training in Agnew State hospital and the Sonoma State home.

For psychiatric technicians whose previous training, experience, and scholastic records justify it, the fourth year is planned to provide training in supervision, ward management, administration and teaching experience. The proposed curriculum has much in common with the standard nursing training program.

Students Save 25%, Buy Texts Before First Class Meets

Savings of 25 per cent, plus one-trip buying convenience, are realized by a growing number of students who have learned California Book Company's course requirement lists make it unnecessary for them to attend classes before getting their needs.

By coming in immediately after registering, they have the best chances of obtaining used texts before they are all sold. California Book Company, through its contacts with all the nation's other college stores, obtains fine second-hand copies of many texts never used on this campus before.

To protect students who drop or change courses, CalBook gives full refunds for the first 10 days have nothing to lose and every-of each term. So wise students thing to gain: "Come early, hand a clerk your Reg-Card and save money, get everything in one trip, avoid the class-day crowded rush," CalBook urges.

Many courses do not require texts or supplies, and the CalBook lists state so. Moreover, additional savings of from 25 to 50 per cent can be realized by selling texts back to CalBook at the close of the term.

Art Prof Returns To Teaching Post

resume teaching duties at the college.

The six months were spent with tours of a great many major colleges between California and New York and with visits to artist friends along the route.

During his absence from the college, Dr. Reitzel also found time to do between 15 and 20 paintings in California sites which, when completed are tentatively planned to be shown at the college at Dr. Wahlquist's and faculty requests.

Invitation Issued To Visit Building

Dr. Ralph J. Smith head of the Engineering department, today issued an invitation to all interested persons to visit the new Engineering building which is located on San Antonio street between Seventh and Eighth streets.

According to Dr. Smith all of the Engineering department's equipment has not been moved in as yet, but a good over-all view of the building and its purpose can be obtained.

This will mark the first time the new Engineering building has been in use during a regular session of the college.

Student President Asks Spartans To Help in ASB

By JOHN AITKEN

(Student Body President)

At my recent visit to Asilomar where Freshman Camp was being held, I was happy to see the enthusiasm and spirit that the new students showed. My only regret was that we couldn't have had every new student able to be at this camp for indoctrination to our school.

I know that many of you new students will want to be active in campus activities and student government. I also realize that most of the newcomers don't know just how to go about getting into activities here at State. That is the entire point of this article.

My suggestion to all new students is that they try to attend their class council meetings and all other committee meetings that they feel might interest them. All of these meetings will be announced in the Spartan Daily "Meeting-Column."

Of course your activities program can be overdone so don't try to take on too much all at once. Also don't feel discouraged if you can't find something you like right away. Remember, there is a place for everyone in student activities.

So, may I wish all the new students good luck and let's have a successful activities year.

Meetings

The Student Y is holding an open house Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 11 p.m., for all new and old students.

Student teachers and students who will be serving internships and therefore off campus this quarter should sign up for their graduation pictures at the La Torre booth behind the Men's gym on registration days.

Coop Opens Today With 'New Look'; Hours, 7 to 4:30

The Coop has taken on a new look.

Completely remodeled, it opened today at 7 a.m. and will be open until 4:30 p.m., according to William Feltz, graduate manager.

Under a $15,000 budget, the Coop has been rejuvenated during the summer into a cafeteria designed to accommodate 160 persons. Formerly, it accompanied 106.

"We are emphasizing fast service," said Feltz. "And the prices are the same as last year."

The food will be served cafeteria style, he said. Students are requested to enter at the door closest to the Speech and Drama building. The exit is on the other side.

The interior of the Coop now has a new tile floor, fluorescent lighting, stainless steel serving counters, and new tables and chairs. Along the walls stools and small eating counters have been constructed. The tables are dispersed in the middle of the floor.

Freshman camp was again a success with the enrollment of 400 freshmen and transfers. The registrars had to refuse 170 applicants because of the limited facilities at Asilomar.

The camp lasted three days, Sunday through Tuesday. Skits and discussion groups outlined the entertainment. The campers discussed athletics, but more important, student government.

John Aitken, student body president, was the principle student speaker. President Wahlquist and Dean DeVoss were the main speakers of the 25 faculty members who attended.

The success of the camp is attributed to Patty Engerud, Sunji Ito, and Bill Eckert, vice president of the student body.

Said Eckert, "I think this year's camp was especially successful because it made the students feel as if they belonged to San Jose State."

Eckert said that next year they plan to have two freshman camps to take care of the large incoming freshman class.

Three Departments Move

Three departments have moved from their old quarters last year into new buildings. C. W. Quinley, jr., acting registrar, reported Friday.

The Engineering department and the Music department have moved into new buildings, and the Journalism department has moved into the old music building and converted the second floor into the editorial offices of the Spartan Daily.

Quinley added that the old apartment houses on Seventh and San Antonio streets, which were used last year for classrooms in industrial arts and engineering, are being torn down to make room for the expansion building program at the college.

The barracks on San Carlos street, formerly occupied by the Journalism and Police departments are now being utilized as the Police school.

Many Couples Married During Summer Months

Summer, being a traditionally romantic time of year, found many Spartan affiliates joining Cupid's ranks of just-marrieds.

Boothby-Gwin

State's Memorial Chapel was the setting for the marriage of Margaret Boothby, daughter of Associate Professor of Music Lydia W. Boothby, and William Du-laney Gwin, professor of chemistry at the University of California. Margaret, a graduate of Pomona college, was on the SJS clerical staff for a year and has been employed in the graduate office at Cal.

Gervais-Hamilton

Also married in Memorial Chapel were Carlee Gervais and Robert Hamilton Jr. Carlee, who attended school here and also at the University of California, was affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi. Robert, who was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon while here, now is an engineer for Kaar Engineering corp. of Palo Alto.

Mary Ellen Wise and Burton Covel, SJS alumni, were married during the summer in San Luis Obispo. They are making their home in Palo Alto, where both hold teaching positions.

Childrey-Armell

SJS graduates Nancy Childrey and Pfc. William Armell exchanged wedding vows in San Jose and now are living in Monterey while

Nankivell-Freitas

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Freitas (June Nankivell) now are at home in San Jose after having been wed in State's Memorial Chapel. They plan to continue studies at SJS as graduate students.

Bertolani-Gagliardi

Carroll-Carnesecca

Now living in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carnesecca (Dorothy Mae Carroll). Dorothy attended State and Heald's Business college. Ed also attended State and was affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha. He is stationed in the Islands as an ensign in the Navy.

Sisemore-Viviano

Helen Sisemore, former SJS student, and Robert Viviano, who graduated from State in June, were married in Reno this summer. They now are at home at University Village, Santa Clara, where Bob is enrolled in Santa Clara Law School. He was president of the local chapter of Delta Sigma.

All Students May Audition for Two Stage Productions

Auditions for Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" and Terence Rattigan's "The Winslow Boy" will be held in the Little Theater Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 22 and 23, at 4 p.m.

All college students are eligible to try out for these two major productions for the fall quarter. Copies of the plays are on reserve in the Reserve Book room.

"Twelfth Night" is scheduled to run Oct. 23, 24, 29, 30 and 31, while "The Winslow Boy" will play on the nights of Dec. 4, 5, 10, 11 and 12.

"Twelfth Night" (or "What You Will") is rated as one of Shakespeare's most delightful comedies. It is a drama of deception and the deceived which contains such amusing characters as Malvolio, Sir Toby Belch, Sir Andrew Aguecheek and Viola.

The comedy tells in spirited action and flexible dialogue the story of romantic love, of various and contrasted character, of comic, bewildering entanglements and mistaken identity.

"The Winslow Boy" in 1947 won the Critics Award as the best foreign play of the year. This absorbing drama of family life was a tremendous hit in London and its success there has been duplicated in this country.

The play deals with a simple incident that ultimately grows into a cause which nearly shakes the foundations of the English government. This play, although dealing with material of import, is human in its comic elements.

More-Quinley

Lorelee More of the college personnel office became the bride of C. W. Quinley Jr., acting registrar, at the Memorial Chapel in August. The couple, who held their reception in the Student Union, now are at home in San Jose.

Visits Planned By Fraternities During Week

All the 11th street fraternities will have an open house on Wednesday evening beginning at 7:20 p.m., according to Marv Scarper, representative of the Interfraternity Council.

Fraternities located elsewhere in the city will hold their open houses on Thursday evening at the same time, Scarper reported.

The open houses do not constitute part of the official rushing program. This will not start until Sept. 28.

Transfer students are especially invited to visit the houses.

To be eligible for rushing on this campus, a man must be on clear standing and carry a minimum of 12 units.

Rushing brochures will be available at a booth on registration day or in the Dean of Men's office. All interested parties are urged to fill out the applications at either the booth or in the Dean's office.

Student Y Plans For Open House

The Student Y will hold an open house Wednesday evening, Sept. 23, from 7:30 to 11 p.m. at the Y house, 272 S. Seventh street, according to Miss Janet Seitz, president.

Group singing, informal games and refreshments will highlight this first meeting and students will also be able to purchase tickets Wednesday evening for the annual Crummeys barbecue on Sept. 30.

"All new students, both freshmen and transfers, are especially invited to come, to meet new friends and to learn about the Y and its program," Miss Seitz concluded.

College Hires New Teachers

Five new professors have been added to the Natural Science department for the coming year, according to Mrs. Marion Smith, department secretary.

The professors and their subjects are: Mr. Richard Hartesveldt, biology; Dr. L. R. Mewaldt, zoology; Dr. Marvin Shrewsbury, anatomy; Dr. Wilbur Sprain, physical science, and Miss Grace Staple, head of nursing education.

Cal and Korea Vets Find Used Textbooks Assist Budgets

More than ever before, now that they must pay cash for books and supplies, California State and Korea Veterans are realizing that California Book Company is synonymous with the secondhand textbooks that stretch their budget dollars.

CalBook each term scours the country's college bookstores for secondhand texts, especially those never before used on this campus, for the benefit of students with limited finances, who now include Cal and Korea Vets despite increases in their subsistence.

To assure themselves of getting used texts, slide rules, drawing sets and many similar supplies, students must go to CalBook as soon as they've registered, for secondhand items sell out rapidly.

At CalBook they need only to hand a clerk their registration cards, specifying that they want used books wherever possible, and the clerk, by referring to course requirement lists, will obtain all their needs for the term at one time.

Full refunds are given by CalBook on all purchases for the first 10 days of each term to protect students who drop or change courses.

Crafts Instructor Position Open

A position as arts and crafts teacher is open in Southern California for eligible teacher candidates. Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of teacher placement, announced Friday.

Entrance salary for the job ranges from $310 to $358 monthly depending upon the candidate's academic qualifications. Miss Robinson said. Merit increases will enable appointees to progress to salaries ranging from $376 to $436, while employees who complete additional academic training after appointment may earn incentive increases to a maximum salary of $481 a month.

The position entails instruction of patients in a State hospital for the mentally deficient, mentally ill, or the inmates of a State correctional institution. Group and individual instruction and supervision in weaving rugs and scarves, raffia and straw weaving are included in the work program.

Giant Wasp Nest In Science Room

Currently on display in the second floor hall of the Science building is the "largest paper wasp nest most of the Science department staff members have ever seen," Mr. John Harville, assistant professor of biology and science education, reported Friday.

The giant wasp nest was presented to the department by a pest abatement operator of a private pest control concern, Mr. Harville said. The nest was discovered by the operator at the site of one of his company's jobs in the San Jose area.

Positions Offered In Foreign Region

Teacher candidates who will graduate in December and who are interested in work in a foreign country are eligible for seven job openings in an American school in San Salvador, Central America, Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of teacher placement, announced Friday.

Escuela Americana (American school) of San Salvador will need six teachers beginning Feb. 4, Miss Robinson said. The jobs include kindergarten and art, second, third, fourth, sixth and eighth grades.

Another teacher will be needed at the school beginning Jan. 4, for the ninth grade. This position offers a salary of $2625 for the seven and one-half month session. Candidates for these jobs must sign a one year contract.

Students interested in these opportunities may obtain further details from Miss Robinson in the Placement office, Room 100.

La Torre Wants Experienced Help

Welcome on the staff of La Torre, the college yearbook, are persons who have had experience working on high school or junior college yearbooks or who have had business experience. Mrs. Dolores Spurgeon, adviser to the annual publication, announced today.

Course numbers are Journalism 63 ABC, 110 ABC and 111 ABC. Co-editors for this year's publication will be Frances Rabanus and Roger Flanagan.

Placement Aids In Part and Full Time Jobs

The college Placement office, located in Room 100 of the Administration building, is prepared once again to aid students in obtaining full or part-time jobs, according to Dr. Vernon Ouellette, placement officer.

The Placement office acts as an employment office for students while they are in school and also helps many graduating seniors in locating their first post-college job. The latter is particularly true in the case of teacher candidates.

Teaching positions throughout the entire country and in some foreign nations are filled through the efforts of the Teacher Placement office which is under the direction of Miss Doris K. Robinson. All teacher candidates are required to register with Miss Robinson's office, which is located in the Placement office, and she and her staff attempt to place graduating teacher candidates in positions which will be most beneficial to both themselves and their future employers.

Assisting other students in finding full-time employment is Mrs. Florence Kellenberger, who is in contact with many private and governmental employment offices. Students in the field of the business world have found Mrs. Kellenberger of great assistance in finding employment upon graduation.

Part-time employment secretary in the Placement office is Mrs. Nancy Diez. It is her job to place students in the many part-time jobs available in the San Jose area. Students who desire work of this nature should register with Mrs. Diez in the Placement office as soon as possible.

Most of the part-time jobs currently available are listed daily on the bulletin board located in the hallway outside the Placement office. After registering with Mrs. Diez, the student job hunter should check the cards on the board daily for the position they want.

Jobs presently listed on the board include gardening work, baby and child care, process server in the Palo Alto area, salesmen, bus boys and dishwashers and a parking lot attendant. One interesting job for a man student is that of moving beds in a sorority house. However, this job is of a temporary nature.

Submit To Lyke, Talent Invited

Cartoonists and persons with writing talent who like to turn out light poetry and articles are invited to sign up for the campus feature magazine, Lyke, according to Mrs. Dolores Spurgeon, adviser to the quarterly.

Course numbers are Journalism 64 ABC, 102 ABC and 103 ABC. Lyke's editors for the coming quarter will be Duane Fiorini and Muriel Voight.

Lyke is an offset magazine.

Spartan Shop To Open Evenings

The Spartan Shop will be open from 7 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of registration week, R. M. Atkinson, manager of the shop, announced today.

According to Atkinson, the purpose of the evening opening is to accommodate students who have no other free time in which to buy books.

Students may sign up in Room 232 of the new Music building or the main office.

Women To Be Trained By Police Department

For the first time in the history of the college, women students will be admitted into the police school here, reports Willard E. Schmidt, head of the police school.

"The need for women police is growing," Schmidt said, "and the salaries are high in the field. We had a lot of inquiries from high school girls before, so we decided to add a police women curriculum to our program."

Schmidt said that last year at a convention of the California Police Women's Association held in San Jose, he asked them if they wanted to assist the college's police school in selecting the curriculum and sponsoring the program.

The association gave its unanimous approval of the plan and have assisted in choosing the curriculum.

The Police department head said that he didn't expect a very large registration the first quarter. But, he added, "I expect interest to grow when the word gets around."

College Receives Latest Jet Model

San Jose State college will be one of 20 colleges and universities in the country to receive the J34 Westinghouse jet engine, the latest model released by the government. Engines are given only to schools offering A.B. degrees in aeronautics or engineering. It is an 11-stage compressor, axial flow, jet engine.

On hand in the department already is the J31 General Electric compressor type jet engine. The college is the only school in California to have both models of jet engines for instructional use.

Enrollment in the Aeronautics department is also open to women.

Police Department Gains New Member

Melvin Miller, 45, has joined the faculty of instructors in the Police School, according to Willard E. Schmidt, head of the department.

"Miller will instruct in the regular classes," Schmidt said, "but he will specialize in customs, narcotics and immigration."

Schmidt added that the department wanted to utilize Miller's five years' practical experience with the U. S. Department of Justice on the Mexican border.

Miller graduated from the University of Colorado with a BS degree.

The instructor, a family man, has two boys, one 18 and another eight.

Rifle Shooter Places Open

Sergeant Patrick Wahlen of the Army ROTC announced this week that San Jose State college will compete in the Northern California Intercollegiate Rifle association again this year.

Sergeant Wahlen emphasized that places on the rifle team are open to any member of the associated student body of the college. Wahlen invites interested persons to attend the first meeting of the rifle team which will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sept. 29 in Room 1 at 306 S. Fifth street.

Mosher Takes Over New Post

Dr. Raymond M. Mosher, former dean of educational services and summer session dean, now is acting as interim president of Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney, Wash. He was granted a year's leave of absence from San Jose State to assume the post.

Taking his place for the 1953-54 academic year is Dr. William

DR. RAYMOND M. MOSHER

G. Sweeney, former chairman of the Education division. Dr. Sweeney also will have general supervision of the college Extension division.

Acting chairman of the Education division for the year is Dr. William R. Rogers, professor of education.

Dr. Mosher had been a member of the San Jose State faculty since 1931, when his first appointment was as professor of psychology. He is vice-president of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, an organization dealing with the accrediting of colleges and higher schools of the region, including 21 California colleges.

Army ROTC To Offer New Type Training

Following the pattern of the Military Academy at West Point, the Army ROTC unit here will now offer training leading to commissions in the Infantry, Corps of Engineers and Military Police Corps.

Since the unit was established on the campus in 1948, instruction has been limited to training for the Military Police Corps.

Col. John E. Rogers, new commanding officer of the unit, announces that students enrolled in military science courses will, at the beginning of their senior year, have a choice of the three branches of the Army service in which they wish to specialize.

The curriculum in the freshman, sophomore and junior years is also being broadened in accordance with the new policy. This year's senior, however, will complete his training directed toward commissions as second lieutenants in the Military Police Corps.

Student Teachers Meet Tomorrow

Secondary level student teachers will meet Tuesday, Sept. 22, in the Little Theater for general orientation before starting their teaching assignments, according to Dr. G. W. Ford, coordinator of secondary teachers.

Assignments to general secondary, special secondary, and junior high positions will be made at the meeting. About 50 candidates for secondary credentials plan to do student teaching this quarter, Dr. Ford said.

Colonel Rogers Takes Position

New commanding officer of the San Jose State college Army ROTC is Colonel John E. Rogers, who succeeds Colonel James J. Hea, who retired at the end of the 1952-53 college year.

Colonel Rogers comes to San Jose State after a four year command of the Hawaiian Armed Services Police. He is a full professor of military science.

A native of Lowell, Mass., the new command officer received his early education in the public schools of Everett, Mass. Later, he attended the University of New Hampshire from which he was graduated in 1928 with an A.B. degree.

A business man for 14 years, Colonel Rogers entered military service in 1942 as a first lieutenant in the Military Police Corps. Prior to service in the far east, he was provost marshal at Fort Monroe, Va.

Upon his return to the United States in 1948 he was assigned to special duty with the air force at Randolph Field, Texas. In 1949 he went to Honolulu to take charge of the first military police unit composed of representatives of all of the services. He was raised to the rank of colonel in 1950.

Colonel and Mrs. Rogers, have two daughters, Jacqueline and Nancy who will attend San Jose State college this year.

The appointment of Colonel Rogers marks the third commanding officer the army ROTC at San Jose State college has had since the program was started here in 1948. The first was Colonel John H. Pitzer.

Sport Notes

By KEITH KALDENBACH

Friday night marked the beginning of the 1953 football season for San Jose State college Spartans. And it was a new game of football for many of the spectators in the stands. Gone were the host of players hustling back and forth each time the ball changed hands and at the game's end there were several players whose uniforms were badly soiled after nearly sixty minutes of football.

The new system is not actually new. It is basically the same brand of ball that was played prior to 1941. In that year the National Collegiate Athletic association abolished the restricted substitution rule, which prevented a player from returning to action in the same quarter, and put into action the unrestricted substitution rule which enabled the platoon system to blossom forth.

Surprisingly enough, the wartime change was made in order that small schools might fare better in the wartime shortage of personnel. By 1946 the platoon system of football became widespread and the ruling began to hurt the very schools it was designed to aid. Many small colleges, more than 50 in all, were forced to abandon football for financial reasons. Root of their difficulties was said to be the platoon system and its resulting higher cost of supporting a team. Santa Clara, USF and St. Mary's are the prime examples in Northern California.

Now, 12 years later, the NCAA has again changed its substitution law for the same reason. To aid the smaller schools. Actually, there were four objections to the platoon system, but this was their main argument. The other charges made by the NCAA Council of college administrators in their survey of the situation were:

1. That the platoon system increased subsidization and recruiting because the system required more players.
2. The system produced overspecialization in player assignments which resulted in the loss of many desirable character-building qualities of the game such as teamwork and the discipline imposed by stiff conditioning routines.
3. That the platoon system decreased player and spectator interest in football.

All of the above reasons are highly debatable and, according to a nationwide survey made recently by Collier's magazine, players and coaches alike are about evenly split for and against the present change.

For those who are confused by the new ruling, here is a brief explanation. Instead of being permitted to return to action in the same quarter, in which he was replaced, a player now must wait until the next quarter before he can re-enter the game. For example, if a player is removed in the middle of the first quarter he would be unable to play further during that period of play. This holds true for each of the four quarters with two exceptions. Four minutes before the end of the second and fourth quarters, he can return to the game even though he has seen action during those quarters.

No check of the players is kept by the officials, which puts the coaches on the honor system to obey the regulation. However, should one of the officials detect the return of a player in the same quarter in which he was removed, he will impose a 15-yard penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct on the guilty team. Also, the substitution will not be permitted.

There will be many words spoken and written about the rule change in coming months but nothing concrete will be realized until the return to football wars of Santa Clara, USF, St. Mary's and other small schools which the change is designed to aid. If they come back and regain their pre-war stature, then we can say the new regulation has achieved its objective.

Ex-Opponent Shows Improvement

San Diego State college footballers decided last year, after taking a 47-6 shellacking, that the Spartans were too strong for them. The result was that they dropped San Jose State college from their schedule. According to recent reports from the Aztec training camp, the Spartans should be happy they did.

In fact, the normally ultra-conservative Montezuma mentor, Bill Schutte, went so far recently as to applaud his team's efforts in a strenuous session with strong San Diego Navy as "best scrimmage defensive showing we've made in years."

"They didn't gain an inch against us on the ground," he enthused with a slight exaggeration.

Frosh Basketball Sign-up Slated Today, Tomorrow

All freshmen who are planning to turn out for Frosh basketball are asked by Walt McPherson, Spartan basketball coach, to sign up with him during registration either today or tomorrow.

Williams may be found in the Men's Physical Education department section in the Men's gym.

Famous Columnist Plugs Spartans In His Column

Henry McLeMore, nationally famous human interest columnist, recently gave the college a bit of publicity in the environs of his column.

Occasion for the plug was the result of McLeMore's comments on a new wrinkle (he called it "a whole new prune") on the subject of procuring and maintaining a top-flight football team. It all came about when Bob Hope recently headed a show at the University of Tennessee with all the proceeds slated to go for football scholarships.

McLeMore went on to give examples of what could happen if the practice continued.

When he got to San Jose State college, he began thusly: "With its traditional game with San Jose State only two Saturdays away, Gonzaga university today called on

Golden Raiders Give Up Vacation for Practice

While many other students were winding up their vacations or earning a few more summer dollars, the Spartan football squad was toiling under the hot September sun in preparation for the fall football season.

The 47-man squad reported for practice on September 1 to begin their struggle for starting berths on the team. At the end of the first week, Coach Bob Bronzan forsook the traditional coach's crying towel and expressed almost complete satisfaction with the teams efforts.

The first week was devoted exclusively to offense, a category in which the 1952 Spartans ranked second in the nation. The second week saw defense emphasized and both were reviewed in the final few days before the Golden Raider opener against Idaho at Spartan Stadium last Friday.

One of the factors which made Bronzan happy during the first week, and one of the reasons for the good progress made, is the hot competition for starting its most celebrated alumnus, Bing Crosby, to sing it to victory."

The account was entirely fictional which accounts for McLeMore's pitting the Spartans against Gonzaga, a college SJS has never met on the gridiron.

jobs. The Spartan mentor said that there were two or three men in contention for nearly every position, a condition which makes for hard play by all hands.

Prior to Sept. 1, Bronzan believed that the quarterback spot was the key to whatever success the Spartans will enjoy in the 1953 schedule, the toughest in San Jose history. After the first week he was satisfied that Benny Pierce and Larry Rice would do the job. Sophomore Bob Reinhart also made good strides during the first six days.

In nearly every other spot, there was a fight for the starting job. Top contenders include (let-termen noted by asterisk): LE—Charles Hardy, Mervin Lopes, Bill Walsh*, Merle Flattley; LT—John Hamber*, Jack Biglen*, Don Wadsworth; LG—Dale Summers*, Bill Cash, Stan Galas; C—Tom Yagi*, Dick Fleeger, Jerry Ruse, RG—Ed Mayer*, Tom Louderback, Charley Kaahue; RT—Sal Cardinali*, Jon Petersen*, Jack Crawford, Joe Muldowney*; RE—Ralph Daehler, Clarence Weissman, Leon O'Neill, Rudy Kaplan; QB—Pierce, Rice; LH—Larry Matthews*, Herman Stokes, Dick O'Neill, Al Brown; RH—Bill Walker*, Dave Fanner, Pat Hiram, Gene Goldberg*, F—Joe Ulin, Jerry Taylor, Sam Dawson.

STUDENTS' ACCIDENT AND SICKNESS INSURANCE

Again this year, the students of San Jose State College are offered protection against the expense of emergency illnesses and accidents, in addition to the regular College Health Service. The cost of this supplemental coverage is exceptionally low. While the insurance is wholly optional, we recommend it for your serious consideration.

A representative of the Mutual Benefit Health & Accident Association, Mr. Harold Wehner, will be at the library arch today and Tuesday. Further information at the Graduate Manager's office.

Spartans Defeat Vandals, 34-6

By Keith Kaldenbach

A highly pleased Coach Bob Bronzan set his sights on Brigham Young U. Friday night in the Spartan dressing room after his young team's 34-6 winning effort over University of Idaho in the season's opener.

The Spartans meet Brigham Young in Provo, Utah, next Friday night at 8 p.m.

Bronzan refused to single out a single outstanding player in Friday evening's victory. He said, "It was a team effort which has been an outstanding characteristic of my boys since the beginning of fall practice sessions."

He went on to say that he was happy for his team for they had worked hard together and that the win would give them the confidence they needed for a successful season.

Bronzan explained that he was a "bit worried" during the first half of the contest which ended with the Golden Raiders out in front by a score of 7-6. He admitted that the Spartans looked a bit sluggish during the first quarter when they were only able to play the vandals to a standstill.

When asked about the new substitution rule, Bronzan said that there were a few times when he wished that he could send a man back in the game, but that it didn't bother him much.

On the first play of the game, it looked as if the Golden Raider's were on the way when Larry Matthews intercepted George Eidam's pass on the 50-yard line and ran it back to the 42. However, the Spartans, after gaining one first down on two plays, lost the ball on downs on the Idaho 25.

The game changed complexion quickly when, on the first down, Eidam passed to right end Bruce West for a 35-yard gain. The Vandals moved 17 yards in seven plays only to lose the ball on downs.

Only scoring threat of the quarter came when Spartan quarterback Rice tossed a pass intended for Buhler which was a little too long.

A break came for the Vandals on the second play of the second quarter when Rice fumbled and Idaho recovered on the Spartan 19. Three plays later the Vandals crossed the Golden Raider's goal line and the score stood at 6-0. Eidam's conversion attempt was blocked by Spartan end Leon O'Neill.

Four plays later the Golden Raiders threw up a screen of blockers in front of fullback Joe Elm who scooted untouched for 56 yards and the first Spartan touchdown. Rice converted to make the score 7-6 for the Spartans.

The Spartans took charge of the game in the second half when, nine plays after the kickoff Elm racked up his second TD of the night from the 7-yard line. Rice again made good the conversion and the Golden Raiders led by a 14-6 score.

Second Spartan TD for the third quarter came when they again formed a screen of blockers in front of Joe Elm who carried the mail 40 yards into paydirt. Rice converted and the score stood at 21-6.

In the second minute of the final quarter, the Spartans again tallied when left halfback Dick O'Neill tossed a payoff pass to right end Leon O'Neill. (No they are not related.) Rice missed his first conversion attempt of the night and the score stood at 27-6.

Final score of the game came when, with a little over a minute to play, Fullback Sam Dawson plunged over from the 5-yard line. Benny Pierce made good the conversion attempt to make the final score 34-6.

1952 Spartans Rank High
San Jose State Spartans ranked second in total team offense in 1952. Their average yards gained for their nine games was 430.1 compared to 466.5 in ten games for the first ranked team, Tulsa university. Spartans ranked second to Fordham in passing offense.

Cross Country Squad Sign-up Slated Today

Cross Country track season gets under way today with the announcement from Coach Bud Winter that all men planning to enter cross country competition are to report to Spartan Stadium this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Winter said that freshmen are eligible for the varsity cross country team and urges all first year distance runners to turn out for today's sign-up.

"If prospects make their appearance as hoped we should have another outstanding team," Winter said.

Last year's team won out over such outstanding competition as USC, Stanford and California. The three Pacific Coast conference teams are included in this year's schedule along with San Francisco State, College of Pacific, San Diego Navy and San Diego Invitational meet at San Diego.

First meet for the trackmen will be in about three weeks against an unannounced opponent, Winter said. Name of the opponent will be revealed as soon as the schedule is approved, he explained.

Members of last year's squad who are expected to return for another season of competition are Don Hubbard, Long Stanley, Bill Stevens, Allen Dunn and Dick Vogel. Bob McMullen, champion steeplechaser, may be included in this season's team if his eligibility problems are solved.

New men expected to sign up today are Warren Emm, stamile and two mile runner at Mo-

Only 3 Lettermen Expected Back For SJS Basketball

One first string guard and two lettermen of last year's squad are the only experienced men expected to turn out for varsity basketball sign-up Monday, October 12, Walt McPherson, Spartan basketball coach, said Friday.

Coach McPherson is hoping for a good turnout of transfer students to fill the gap left by casualties from last year's team to graduation and the armed forces.

The three returnees are: Carol Williams, first string guard; Dick Schwendinger, guard; and Bud Hjeltn, forward.

Lost to the Armed Forces are: Dick Brady, forward, who will be inducted in October; Slim Hodgson, forward, who joined the Naval Air Corps; and Fred Niemann, center, who has been in the service since April. Captain Lee Jensen, Don Edwards, and Bill Abbott were lost by the graduation route in June.

A stiff 26-game schedule is on tap for the Spartan basketball team which has not as yet been officially approved. However, it is known that the slate will include games with California, Stanford, University of Oregon, University of Arizona and Arizona State. Twelve California Basketball Association games also are included.

Opening game of the 1953-54 season will be played December 1 against San Francisco State college, McPherson said. Both the opening game and the first practice session dates are those agreed upon by the CBA, he explained.

Large Turn Out Expected for Frosh Football

Candidates for the freshman football team should sign up today and tomorrow, according to Danny Hill, director of athletic publicity.

Named as coaches for the Spartababes are Bob Amaral, Russ Phillips and Stu Fowler.

Hill estimated that between 120 and 150 frosh would turn out for the current edition of the Spartababes.

The 1953 Spartababes will play one home game this season. It will be a contest with Fresno Junior college, November 13.

desto junior college two years ago, and Frank Wulftange, a freshman who was an outstanding miler at Willow Glen high school last year.

The cross country season winds up with the annual Turkey Trot which is held during the Thanksgiving holiday period. The cross country event, which is open to all comers on a handicap basis, was won last year by Bob McMullen. Prize offered to the winner is a turkey for the Thanksgiving dinner table.

Winter said Friday that fall practice sessions for Frosh and Varsity trackmen will be held daily at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., while cross country runners will meet at 4 p.m.

Trackmen Invited To 'Get Together'

Varsity and Frosh trackmen are invited to attend a "get-acquainted" meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in S112, according to Bud Winter, track coach.

Coach Winter said that free ice cream will be served to the athletes as an inducement to their attendance at the affair. He expressed his doubt that many of the Spartan trackmen will pass up the free offer of refreshments.

The meeting is open to students who have participated in track in the past and to those who anticipate turning out for the team this season.
